Understand

Emax is one of the largest electronics retailers in the UAE which functions with the objective of delivering great products and an unparalleled customer experience. It has the widest selection of electronics in the UAE with over 800 brands and 100,000 products all under one roof. Emax has grown to be the 2nd largest electronics retail chain in the Middle East with over 30 stores across UAE, Oman, and Qatar.

The Problem

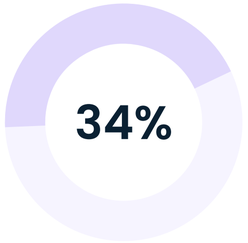

Emax currently does not have a product comparison feature that helps users to pick a specific product based on specification. Emax would like to trial this comparison feature on its Television category.

The Solution

Emax aims to try the comparison feature where the user can select the products for comparison and get specific product details before purchase. A comparison table of maximum four products should be applied on website.

Research

As per data analysis, user research and technical requirements, Emax identified some key points:

Average sales after a product comparison

Product specifications

Price

Delivery options

User’s primary interest

Comparison <=4 products Is more affective

My Objectives

Clean and minimalistic design with abundant white space for the user to focus on the content.

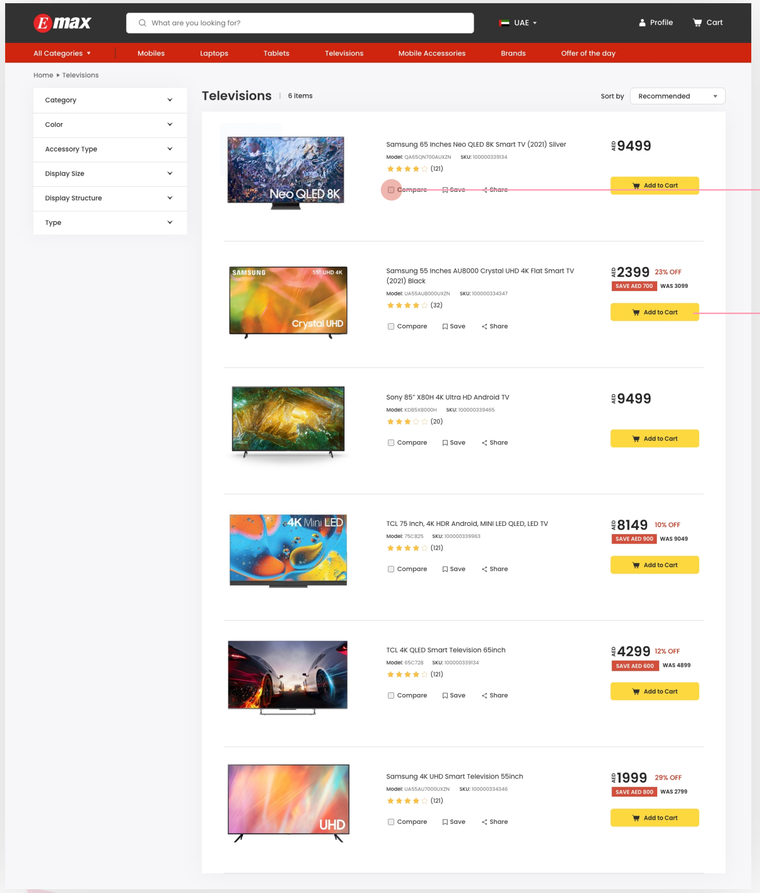

Product Page - TVs

My objective is to introduce new design layout to show detailed information about products. CTA(Call to Action) is also applied on the product page, rating section is not there in existing design, I've placed a rating section to give a specific idea about the product. Also I've change the position of Share button link with compare and save.

User needs to check Compare checkbox to add product for comparison, a maximum of four products can be added for comparison.
